

City Nature Challenge 2020

How much wildlife can you find in your garden or around your home? Join the City Nature Challenge from 24 to 27 April and help us take a snapshot of your area's biodiversity.

Anyone can join in and all you need to do is download and use the iNaturalist app to photograph and record your findings. Over 200 cities worldwide, including London and nine other city regions in the UK, will be finding and recording wildlife in this four-day period.

Even if you can't get outside much, there are still ways to take part. You can look for insects and other creepy-crawlies in your home or help to identify other people's finds, so grab your phone and get involved!

Find out more

Support us

Understanding life on our planet is the greatest scientific challenge of our age. Our researchers study everything from climate change and biodiversity loss, to scarce mineral supplies and human health. Will you support our 300 scientists tackling some of nature's biggest challenges with a donation today?

Donate now

Natural History Museum
Cromwell Road
London, SW7 5BD